
Baby Blues Quilt Pattern
Created by: Holly Elam

Finished Size: 38.5 x 38.5

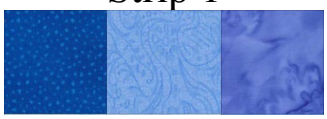
Fabric Requirements:

1 yard of blue fabric for the sashing and border
1 charm pack or 4 - 5 inch squares of nine different fabrics

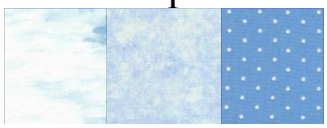
36 – 5 inch squares (From the charm pack)
1 – 5 inch square for the sashing
2 – 5 x 14 inch rectangles from blue fabric
2 – 5 x 14 ¼ inch rectangles from blue fabric
2 – 3 ½ x 33 inch strips from blue fabric
2 – 3 ½ x 39 inch strips from blue fabric

This baby quilt consists of 4 nine patch blocks.

Strip 1



Strip 2



Strip 3

Sew two 5 inch squares together using a ¼ inch seam allowance. Iron the seam towards to dark fabric or iron the seam open if you prefer that method. Sew the third 5 inch square to the right of the strip. Iron the seam. Repeat this step for each strip. You will now have three strips. Sew strip 1 to the top of strip 2. Iron the seam. Sew strip 3 to the bottom of strip 2. Iron the seam. You will now have one finished 9 patch block. Repeat this process to make all four nine patch blocks.

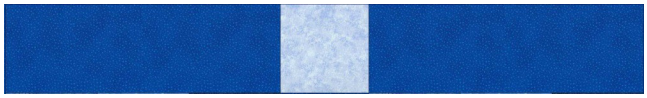
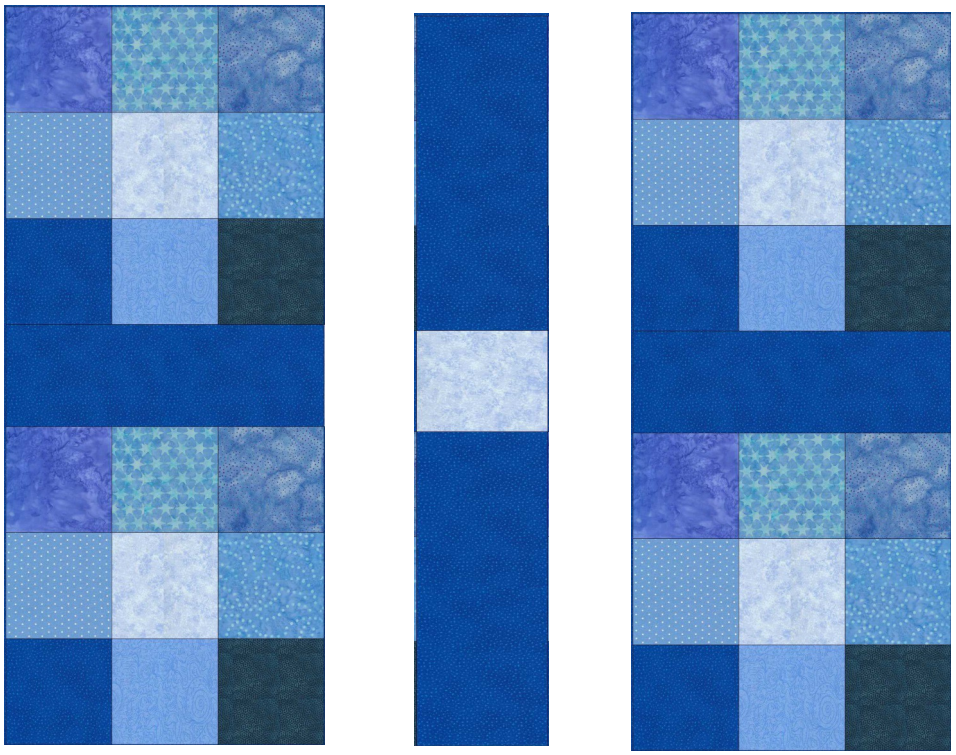
Take a 5 x 14 inch blue rectangle and sew it to the bottom of block one. Iron the seam. Sew block 2 to the bottom of the blue rectangle. You will now have a strip like this.

Repeat the process with the remaining 2 quilt blocks.

Sew the 5 x 14 ¼ inch blue rectangle to the 5 inch square for the sashing. Iron the seam. Sew the remaining 5 x 14 ¼ inch blue rectangle to the other side of the 5 inch square. Your strip will look like this.



Sew the left block strip to the middle sashing strip. Iron the seam. Sew the right block strip to the right of the sashing strip.



Sew the 3 ½ x 33 inch blue strips to the left and right of the quilt top. Iron the seams. Sew the 3 ½ x 39 inch blue strips to the top and bottom. Iron the seams.

Finish your quilt by layering the top, batting, and backing. Use yarn or embroidery thread to tie it. Or quilt the layers together.

I usually make the back bigger so that I can fold the fabric over on to the top and sew it down for the binding. If you have any questions email me at: holly@fabricmom.com.